2009 ADEA/Colgate-Palmolive Company Allied Dental Educators Fellowship

Purpose

The American Dental Education Association (ADEA)/Colgate-Palmolive Company Allied Dental Educators Fellowship promote leadership development of faculty members in allied dental health. This fellowship provides the opportunity for an allied dental educator to focus on a broad range of issues affecting allied dental education such as, but not limited to, policy, research, budget and finance, faculty advancement, legislation, and gender and workforce issues.

Overview

This fellowship allows the recipient to choose one of the following activities:

- The ADEA Leadership Institute—The recipient can choose to attend the ADEA Leadership Institute through a $4,000 award that is applied directly to the applicant's tuition and fees. To qualify to attend the ADEA Leadership Institute, the recipient must complete the Leadership Institute's application materials and have the full support of his or her Dean or program director to cover the remaining costs of the ADEA Leadership Institute. Full details about the ADEA Leadership Institute are available on the ADEA website at www.adea.org.
- ADEA Center for Educational Policy and Research—The recipient can choose to spend the fellowship at the ADEA office. The fellow receives a stipend of $4,000 to cover travel and expenses for the cumulative three-month experience in Washington, DC. The fellow's institution continues to provide salary support for the duration of the experience. While in Washington, DC, the fellow will work with staff in the ADEA Center for Educational Policy and Research on issues such as faculty recruitment, development, and retention; leadership development and teaching strategies; competencies and their assessment; and accreditation and licensure.

The fellow's interests and talents will be considered when assigning projects and responsibilities. ADEA will be flexible in the arrangement of time away from the fellow's institution.

Application Deadline

All applications must be received on or before December 8, 2008. Electronic submissions are not accepted. Receipt of entries cannot be acknowledged.

Send all applications directly to the ADEA Awards Program Coordinator:
