MedAssent DDS is on a mission to end smile denial for both dental providers and patients alike. Their Digital Drug Handbook is the AI-driven pharmacist-in-your-pocket that every dental provider needs to make informed clinical decisions. It is more up to date and convenient than physical manuals, optimized for dental care and workflows beyond other apps and databases and faster and safer than gambling on search engine results for patient care. In fact, using their program is 10X faster than "Googling" the same information. They provide local anesthetic and epinephrine warnings, medical consult recommendations, crucial drug interactions and dental implications for over 13,000 FDA-approved medications. They also include pharmacist-approved dental-specific dosing guidelines and offer recommendations for alternatives should a medication be contraindicated or inappropriate, which is rarely found in other available resources. Importantly, they were the first to introduce AI tools to offer a streamlined, integrated and patient-centric experience, saving time and getting straight to what matters.
