2021 ADEA Distinguished Service Award

DAVID C. JOHNSEN, D.D.S., M.S.

Dr. Johnsen received his D.D.S. from the University of Michigan School of Dentistry in 1970, his M.S. in Pediatric Dentistry from The University of Iowa College of Dentistry in 1973 and became board certified in Pediatric Dentistry in 1978. Over his 45-year career he served on the faculties of three dental schools: West Virginia University School of Dentistry from 1974-1980, receiving an Outstanding Teacher Award in 1976; Case Western Reserve University School of Dental Medicine (CWRU SDM) from 1980-1995, where he was Department Chair, intermittently the Director of the Residency Program, and Interim Dean in 1993; and as Dean of The University of Iowa

College of Dentistry & Dental Clinics (UI COD) since 1995.

Dr. Johnsen's research has focused on two main areas, both with federal funding: innervation of teeth as an indicator of capacity to transmit pain sensory impulses, and early childhood caries/caries patterns in preschoolers. The latter included demonstration projects or consulting nationally for the Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants, and Children (WIC Program) and the Head Start program. He currently focuses on methodology for critical thinking, learning and assessment and has published on a variety of clinical and educational topics.

Dr. Johnsen served on the American Academy of Pediatric Dentistry Board of Directors from 1988-1991 and was a Child Health (legislative) Advocate from 1992-1995, with a Distinguished Service Award in 1996. He was on ADEA's Council of Deans Administrative Board and was ADEA President from 2002-2003. He served on the National Advisory Dental and Craniofacial Research Council (NIH), is on the JADA Editorial Board and is Director of the dental Deans' Institute. He received the Achievement Award from the Ohio Dental Association in 1992 and the Jack Hein Public Service Award from the American Association for Dental Research in 2010.

At the university level, Dr. Johnsen was elected to Chair the Faculty Senate at CWRU in 1994. At UI COD he has been Chair of the Search for the UI Hospitals and Clinics CEO, Co-Convener of the Health Sciences Policy Council, Co-Chair of the University Task Force on Clinical/Translational Research, Chair of the Nursing Dean Search, Chair of the Presidential Search, Chair of the UI Museum of Art Director Search, and Chair of the Liberal Arts and Sciences Dean Search.
